

Do you know a registered Communication Professional who deserves recognition for the work they do?

Nominations are now open for the 2011 Signature Annual Awards.

We would like to hear about registered Communication Professionals who have played a significant part in the provision and development of communication with deaf and deafblind people.

Nominate yourself, a friend or colleague for the Communication Professional of the Year.

“Winning this award was an absolute thrill. Just to be on the shortlist was an honour. I’ve received fantastic support over the years from my family and colleagues, both personally and in the projects I’ve supported. It was also great to meet other nominees at the awards evening and hear of their achievements.”

Trudy Field

2010 Communication Professional of the Year

Learn more or nominate now at:
www.signature.org.uk/awards

