

A new range of learning opportunities

In 2014, a taught course will be delivered in Glasgow over three consecutive days in May and a further three consecutive days in the late autumn.

Participants will be able to:

- undertake the full certificate in Deafblind Studies
- or
- purchase one or two modules on an assessed or non-assessed basis

Full costs and details will be published on the website soon. We anticipate a fee of no more than £1,500 for the full certificate (excluding hotel, subsistence, travel).

The course will explore congenital and acquired deafblindness across the age range and will build in-depth knowledge of deafblindness; communication; movement, mobility and orientation; and public policy.

The Certificate in Deafblind Studies (credit rated by the Open University) is appropriate for anyone working with deafblind people.

The course also helps to develop excellent professional knowledge for staff working with people who are Deaf or hard or hearing, blind or partially sighted, have learning difficulties and/or communication support needs. It is suitable for those seeking a first professional qualification, quality Continuing Professional Development - or as under-pinning knowledge for sensory related units as part of an SVQ3 or Health and Social Care Diploma (L3/5)

For more information, contact the course director, Gerard Swan. Contact details below.

Deafblind Studies

www.deafblindstudies.org.uk

Correspondence: 1 Egerton Houses, South Knighton Road, Leicester, LE2 3LR

Telephone / Mobile / Text 07941 531 931 • Fax: 0871 528 4628 (10p per minute) • gerard@deafblindstudies.org.uk

Deafblind Studies is a project jointly managed by the representatives of a consortium of charities. The group of representatives is known as 'The Board of Partners'. The consortium is not a company or legal entity in its own right. The charity registration numbers for the consortium partners are: Deafblind Scotland SC 031167; Sense 289868; Sense Scotland SC022097; Signature (trading name, registered as CACDP) 1071662. Contact information for consortium members can be obtained from the partner websites or from the course director.